Upon reviewing the endorsement wording by the judge, DC Horton was satisfied that the nature of [redacted] being in the same room as the girls did not qualify as being left unsupervised, as [redacted] indicated she was at the residence. Further, interpreting such text as [redacted] not being permitted to be in a room with the girls without [redacted] would be setting [redacted] up for failure, as there are several circumstances in a home setting, where [redacted] and the girls may be by themselves in a room together. Because DC Horton was satisfied that [redacted] had not breached the terms of the endorsement, DC Horton updated them on the outcome of the statements of [redacted] and [redacted] and they were very cooperative and supportive.

DC Horton advised [redacted] and [redacted] that the police investigation is closed and FACS will continue on with their own investigation.

As a result, no further police investigation is required.
